Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 3-4 and 7-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kamiguchi et al. (U.S. Patent 5,611,975).

Regarding claims 3-4 and 7-8, Kamiguchi discloses that a control console of an injection molding machine comprising: a first region displaying a curve showing a position of screw versus time in filling and pressure-holding steps (Fig. 2, Fig. 3; Column 6, lines 7-25); a second region displaying items for specifying operating condition and setting for the operating conditions (Abstract) in the filling and pressure-holding steps (Fig. 2); wherein the first and second regions are arranged on the same display screen such that the setting can be changed on the same display screen while monitoring the curve (Abstract; Fig. 1; i.e.; the set values of the injection molding condition can be modified while observing the pressure curve displayed on the screen of the CRT display device simultaneously therewith).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 3/10/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Kamiguchi does not disclose displaying a curve showing screw position versus time. However, examiner disagrees since Kamiguchi discloses Table 1 illustrates the relationship between the injection pressure and the screw position with respect to the time elapsed after the start of injection, wherein T represents the time elapsed after the start of injection measured by the use of a sampling period gamma, A, the common address of the RAMs 108 and 109; P, the injection pressure for each sampling cycle; and S, the screw position.

In addition, Applicant argues that Kamiguchi disclose displaying setting for the operating conditions, but does not display items for specifying the operating conditions. Applicant again admitted that Kamiguchi disclose item for specifying the operation conditions. "The items for specifying the operation conditions of Kamiguchi are ten keys, including the injection condition setting key 6, the metering condition key 7, and temperature condition setting which are separate from the CRT/MDI 119 and are not display on the same display (CRT)". As applicant admitted in Fig. 2, the descriptions of keys (specifying the operation conditions) are on the same display of condition setting region and waveform (CRT) but the ten-keys or software keys are outside the CRT display. However, the claims do not required or not claimed any input device and where it set. Accordingly, Kamiguchi discloses meet the claimed invention.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
